LEAD THE WAY

LEVERAGING PSYCHOLOGICAL SCIENCE TO IMPROVE THE WORKPLACE

SPIM & SCP are teaming up to bring you an exciting, new, & bigger conference experience in 2019

THE OPPORTUNITY

WHAT?

The Society of Consulting Psychology & The Society of Psychologists in Management are teaming up for a joint conference February 6-10, 2019. Our conference theme is "Lead the Way: Leveraging Psychological Science to Improve the Workplace".

We will be opening our doors beyond our traditional membership base to include HR, Organization Development & Change Management professionals.

WHY?

More than ever, psychology research and practices are being utilized to enhance the workplace. We want to include other key professionals in the discussion of this important topic.

BENEFITS OF SPONSORSHIP

This conference provides sponsors with a unique opportunity to connect with:

- 951 SCP & SPIM members
- 1,867 social media followers
- Our guests from HR, Organization Development, Change Management and other related fields
- As an extension, the many organizations our attendees work with and provide services to.

SPIM & SCP

WHO ARE WE?

The Society of Consulting Psychology (SCP) supports & develops the science of psychological consulting, encouraging diversity in all its forms, providing education, mentoring and thought leadership, and advocating for consulting practice in the context of an inspired and inspiring community. Whether we work with start-ups or multi-nationals, for-profit or non-profit, educational, healthcare, corporate or government, we strive to add value for the benefit of individuals, institutions, and society.

The Society of Psychologists in Management (SPIM) unites psychologists committed to creating extraordinary organizations. SPIM translates research and real-world experience into practices that empower members to be impactful and effective leaders, coaches and consultants.
